When the parents returns from church, the little girl was nowhere to be found. A search was made of the neig borhood, and finally the usual method . ringing a bell and crying for a lost child, was resorted to. Towards evening intelligence was received that a child had been seen as Mount Hope answering the description of the one missing. Mr. Schaffer could hardly suppose that his child had wandered so far frein home, but he set out for the cemetery. At to the subscriber, bearing date the 5th day of the canal bridge he met Mrs. D. Slotzer with his child on the way home. Mrs. S. had found it at a house in Mount Hope, where it the cemetery. This little girl, only three years old, had walked from near the Falls Field to Mt. Hope and to the extreme Southern part of the grounds, where her father has a lot, and where her little sister was buried. The distance is nearly three miles, and she had not been there often enough to make ber at all acquainted with the streets leading thither. And after reaching the cemetery it is supprising that she should have found her way along the winding paths leading to the uppo part of the grounds. She must have done a without assistance, and actually found place where her sister Charlotte sleeps. long she was going to the spot is not known nor how long she remained there. It is pa sumed that she was much fatigued when all arrived, for she laid down upon the grass ! the grave and slept.
